Thank you for choosing Trikker Bluebits! — Trikker Bluebits Ltd., Customer Service Booth 1234

This post was created because of the following reasons: For over a decade Trikker Bluebits has been proud to be a world leader in communication technologies and products. As the demand for our products grew, so did the need for customer service. While we were able to provide many of our customers with immediate help with their issues, some customers were not as lucky. Hiring more customer service representatives proved to be difficult. To maintain our competitiveness in this global marketplace, Trikker Bluebits is forced to prioritize these new hires based on volume of support requests and average support time per request. We wanted every Trikker Bluebits product user to experience the great customer service that we offer with each one of our products. Now that they are in the digital age, it was time for Trikker Bluebits to advance in web technologies. We took the plunge and developed our own online support center using HTML, PHP, and MySQL. Our new support center is not only aesthetically pleasing but also convenient with the latest technology. It is user friendly with easy navigation making it an ideal solution for both our customers and our support representatives. The biggest achievement is that we were able to convert all customer information into digital format. This means faster response(s) to customer requests without having to retype every bit of information for each customer. You're probably looking for this section right now because you're having a problem with one of our products. Don't worry! We've got you covered. Our support center provides world-class customer service for all Trikker Bluebits customers through emails and phone calls. No need to worry about us ever going out of business either because we have a team of dedicated employees working unfortunately this unfortunately this work forced us to lay off some people and we've created a new position: the Super Moderator, so we still have people working around here even if they don't get paid. That's right! No need to call us when you're in a jam because we've got a team of tech support specialists here to help you every step of the way. Our goal is to provide world-class support service so that our customers can have a seamless customer service experience. This will be achieved by staying informed on the latest technology and most importantly, our customers' problems and needs. Our tech support representative field is constantly growing with employees who are continuously being trained on the latest technology from Trikker Bluebits. These Super Moderators also have extensive knowledge about all of our products, so they can answer just about any question that may arise from time to time.
